Description

This top selling home has been re-envisioned to move with the evolving needs of the modern-day family. With a private parents retreat at the centre of the home the Kenneth 259 gives parents the space they need to reset and unwind.

The separate children's wing with three spacious bedrooms and a communal rumpus means that there are the options for children (or grandchildren) to come together to play or spend time in their own separate oasis.

As you wander down the central hallway, paying homage to family homes of yesteryear you are greeted with a well-appointed kitchen, cosy living room and an alfresco that dreams are made of. The Kenneth kitchen invites you to gather family and friends bringing them together for every occasion creating memories that will last a lifetime.
